

Deceivers at the end of time – mountebankers for belief

By Jan Erik Sigdell

We are doubtlessly at the end of days for the actual humanity and its social structure.

Channeling deception and false gods

In my book Die Manipulationen der Anunnaki (in German, about manipulations of the Anunnaki) I wrote about channelings of “ascended masters” in connection with Theosophy. They are not the only ones who come through in this manner. Various entities contact humans through mediums in a form of messaging that is called “channelling” and in other ways. Can we take them seriously and believe all that they tell? One can hardly doubt that very many of the channelings contain more chaff than wheat simply because it is very easy for entities without noble intentions to abuse such channels. I do not generally reject channelings but want to admonish to caution and mention some common examples.

Ashtar Sheran

This entity comes through in many channelings since 1952 (at that time through George van Tassel in California and Herbert Victor Speer in Berlin) and claims to be the commander of a huge space fleet of the “Galactic Federation.” We are told that the so called “Ashtar Command” would be here to save humanity on our planet from an expected catastrophe and, when life here becomes too hard, bring us away from here. To where? To another planet? Well, that is a delicate question.

Let us first take a look at his name. Some websites want us to believe that it would be Sanskrit and mean something like “the brightest sun.” That is pure nonsense! The sun has many names in Sanskrit, such as ravi, sūrya, āditya, bhānu, savitṛ, arka, bhaskara, dinakara, divākara, mārtanḍa, marīcin, vivasvat, mitra, svaga, pūṣan, bhāsvat.¹ I find no name that would fit “Ashtar.” There are also many words for “bright”, but again none that fits.

If “Ashtar” were Sanskrit, the word could in scientific transliteration be written Aśtar, Aṣṭar, Aśthar or Aṣṭhar, but one does not find even a similar word in a very extensive Sanskrit dictionary². The Sanskrit alphabet has two characters, ष and श, that are both usually transliterated as “sh” and are in scientific transliteration written ś and ṣ respectively (with a somewhat different pronunciation). Alternatively it could also be spelt Aṣṭar, Aṣṭar, Aṣṭhar and then we come just a small step closer, since aṣṭa means “eight”, but that is all. Nothing fits if we add an r, in any case nothing that has to do with “sun” or “bright” and also not with “star.” And how about assuming that the initial a is a long vowel? Āstar etc.? Here only one word comes close: āṣṭra means “ether”, “sky”, “atmosphere”, but also “goat.” But it means neither “sun” nor “star”, even though the Latin word astrum may be etymologically related.

Then what about Sheran? Śerabha is the name of a snake and I find nothing that helps that begins with ś and also nothing that begins with ṣ.

We have to conclude that there is no Sanskrit in the name as it is normally written. But if we write it backwards as Naresh Ratsha it suddenly becomes Sanskrit! However not the way we would expect. Nara means “human being” and īśa means “ruler”, “master”, “lord”, “divinity” (nāra with a long a means “humane”).

When we join the two words to nara-īśa, a rule in the Sanskrit grammar called sandhi requires that ai changes to e: nareśa. In the Hindi language, that developed out of Sanskrit, a final a is not pronounced, even though it is written: pronounced “nareś.” In many Sanskrit words ending with a, this vowel is today mute, since that is how it is pronounced in Hindi (only a long final a, i.e. ā, is pronounced).

And Ratsha? The dictionary has no word that in transliteration is written like that, but the word rāja, backwards “ajār”, means “king.” We may regard ratsha as a colloquial spelling in (mainly non-English) Western languages. (In Hindi, rāja is commonly pronounced “rāj.”)

¹ V.S. Apte: The Student's English-Sanskrit Dictionary, Motilal Banarsidass, Delhi, 1972.

² Monier Monier-Williams: A Sanskrit-English Dictionary, Motilal Banarsidass, Delhi, 1986, 1331 pages!

So what do we have now? Nareś(a) rāja = “king and ruler of humans”, नारेञ्ज राज. Someone who regards himself as suited to rule us and be our master. However, Nareś(a) could also mean “half human and half god”, i.e. “demigod.” It is interesting that some ancient mythologies mention persons, who allegedly were in part human and in another part a god or “deity” (or even an animal), for example Gilgamesh, who according to tradition was one third human and two thirds a god (or rather “divinity” or “deity”). Or in India Narasimha, who was half human (nara) and half a lion (simha). One may, though, ask what is here meant with “god.” It could from a terrestrial view also be understood as “extraterrestrial.” That leads the thought to the nephilim, the “sons of God” and of the “daughters of men” Gen 6:4). Is Ashtar one of them or even one of these “sons”?

It has also been claimed that the name would mean “creator”, but not in Sanskrit (a.o. ātmabhu). Another allegation is “shepherd”, but in Sanskrit avipāla or meṣapāla. Still another is “highest commander”, again without correspondence in Sanskrit – unless we see it as a circumscription of the name written backwards (see above). Some want to connect it with the goddess Astarte (the Greek name of Ishtar) – but Ashtar Sheran is understood as a man – and again some with Astaroth, who is a demon and the “crowned prince of hell.” The Aramaic language has a word “Attar” that in the related Moabite language becomes “Ashtar.” There are some who see a close relation between Ashtar Sheran and the archangel Michael, either as one and the same or that Ashtar would be a reincarnation of Michael. One may ask what else will be alleged to make him more credible.

The practice of reversing names and certain designations, written backwards, and depict symbols upside-down is apparently not rarely found as a twist in dark magic. Ashtar Sheran is sometimes called a space pirate. It appears that he may be in a Mirror-World. Maybe as a kind of anticreation (that may be satanic) in relation to the real creation, in which everything is reversed, where truth is lie and lie is truth. Does Ashtar belong there?

In her writings, Blavatsky mentioned an ancient concept Ashtar Vidyā as a designation of the Art of War and “the highest magical knowledge” (a.o. Secret Doctrine vol. 2, p. 427, “The Doom of Atlantis” and the text “The Secret Doctrine of the Archaic Ages”). It is assumed that this designation came from the Sanskrit words astra = “weapon, missile” and vidyā = “knowledge, science.” Allegedly, there is a text in Sanskrit that possibly is hidden today because of its critical nature. If this today is also a lost concept, it may connect Ashtar Sheran with war and destruction. But so far I still find no lexical connection with the word ashtar in dictionaries.

Billy Meier – who I actually cannot take very seriously (cf. “Vorsicht Falle” – in German) gave a somewhat peculiar statement about Ashtar Sheran (quoted): “Regarding Ashtar Sheran, I would like to say that his name on the Earth is a pseudonym for the extraterrestrial rebel and criminal ARUSEAK³ who, in earlier times, was already operating on the Earth with his unlawful, criminal activities. A long time ago, Lyrian, Vegan, and Plejaren security forces stripped him of any technical and spiritual means of travel in other dimensions, irretrievably distant, and exiled him, so neither he nor his henchmen could get into contact with Earth, Earth human beings, or any other life form in our space/time mode, in material or spiritual form. Today Aruseak alias Ashtar Sheran and his followers have tasks which are defined, guided, and monitored by Plejaren, Lyrians, and Vegans. These tasks, however, do not involve any activities or contacts on the Earth. (Aruseak alias Ashtar Sheran was killed in 1983, when he attacked Asket’s⁴ people in the DAL Universe⁵!) All contradictory claims are lies, fantasies, deception, schizophrenia, etc.” – The reader may form his own opinion about this...

Sherry Shriner said that Ashtar would be Lucifer. Billy Meier and his alleged “Pleiadian” contact Samjase say that Ashtar Sheran’s real name is Aruseak and that he is a criminal. It is told that Ashtar Sheran allegedly was killed in a war against another civilization, after which he according to a cosmic law had to incarnate there.

³ Aruseak is the name for the planet Venus in the ancient Armenian language.

⁴ Cf. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bAkmCTUpOo0>.

⁵ See http://www.futureofmankind.co.uk/Billy_Meier/DAL_Universe.

Chris Thomas (book “Inter Galactic War”) is a clairvoyant, healer and author, but I suggest to listen to him with caution to try to separate the chaff from the wheat. Nevertheless he tells many interesting things that could explain things. Therefore I would like to quote from a Video Nr. 2 what he has to say about Ashtar Sheran (from 01:00 on): The Ashtar Command would in our solar system have thousands of cloaked spaceships prepared to evacuate people from the Earth in an expected catastrophe ... but “they will probably rather be dumped into space, since there is no other planet where we could live.” So why, then, evacuate people from here? That could fit quite well to a plan of the Anunnaki to occupy our planet und take power over those who remain. For that reason they want to reduce the world population to a level on which they can more easily be controlled, and that would be 20-30% of the actual population (or even less). To dump people in space would fit their plans, but maybe also to take them to slave camps, e.g. in bases on the Moon or on Mars.

Evacuation into space

How logical is this idea? If such an evacuation project should be meaningful, billions of people would have to be evacuated in a rather short time. Is that realistic? Even if UFOs would land and take off again each hour and everywhere on Earth, to where could they be brought and how could they be accommodated during the journey? It would not be a short journey. If it goes to another solar system it could last years, or to Mars at least weeks, and that only with extraterrestrial technology. As far as we know, Mars is a desert. How could billions of earth people live there? The idea appears as illusion and believing it as naïve.

And why physically evacuated? Our souls are immortal and only our bodies can (as it is called) “die.”

If this would be a transfer to other dimensions in our multidimensional universe, how could our three-dimensional bodies cope with that? It would rather have to be a transfer of our souls, such as it anyhow takes place after the death of the body. And that would actually be the case when bodies are thrown into space! It has been alleged that one wants to deceive us and plans to do that. That would, however, be a short journey.

And furthermore: If masses of people would be physically transferred to another celestial body, what would life there be like? They would bring all their criminal energies along which lie in the genes of humanity! Thus the new place would rather be a hell than anything else. Again conflicts, violence, murder, deceit, lies, selfishness. Unless they would become zombified through a complete dictatorial control of the consciousness.

This also raises the question to what extent bodies from his Earth can survive the atmosphere and other conditions on another planet.

To throw bodies into space would indeed be an “elegant” solution of a problem that such wishful occupants would have. How could they manage a planet full of cadavers after a “quick solution”? In space, the dead bodies could, for example, be catapulted towards the sun for a mass cremation ...

In 1954, Ashtar is said to have prophesied the end of the world for December 21 that year. And nothing happened. Later he said that the end would come December 24 in 1967. To our satisfaction, again nothing happened. It does not seem to make sense to give prophecies, which after a short time reveal themselves as false ...

As concerns “evacuation into space” see Matthew 24:28: “For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles [vultures] be gathered together.” Are we to understand “eagle” as flying objects? And possibly “carcass” as something evil? Several years ago it was reported that Ashtar Sheran had said that a huge spaceship from his fleet would be visible above a location in the USA at a certain date, for all to see. No one saw anything and the flop was quickly swept under the carpet.

A warning

Here is an important warning about Ashtar & Co: The ASHTAR Command by Elizabeth Joyce. She associates him with the demon Ashtaroth. See also about implants and manipulation below.

Sananda

Ashtar Sheran appears in some channelings together with another entity called “Lord Sananda.” About him, Chris Thomas says: “If he is an ascended consciousness ..., why does he then have an ego that wants to be called ‘Lord’?”

This Sananda claims to be the “ascended Jesus” and that smells strange to me. And what does he have to do with Ashtar Sheran? That makes him more suspicious to me. His “galactic” name is supposed to mean “the ascended one”, but not in Sanskrit since there sānanda (सानन्द) simply means “joyful”, “glad”, “satisfied.” A very similarly sounding word svānanda means “self-complacent”, “satisfied with oneself.”

The whole concept of Ascended Masters that one meets so often in Blavatsky’s Theosophy makes me want to ask: Where ascended? To the astral level? And not to the realm of Christ? Possibly somewhere else than where we want to go as souls after death? The theosophical organization Lucis Trust allegedly was first called “Lucifer Trust” and Blavatsky issued a magazine that originally was called “Lucifer”...

“The noted Ascended Master Teachings teacher Joshua David Stone (whose organization, the I AM University, was originally headquartered near San Luis Obispo, California), began holding his Wesak Mount Shasta gatherings in 1996. Stone had begun teaching in 1993, based on the early 1980s revelations of Tuella⁶, that the Master Jesus, under his galactic name ‘Sananda’ (the name, Stone stated, he adopted after his resurrection), works with Commander Ashtar,” (From https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Master_Jesus#Sananda)

This Sananda told various women in Channelings through female mediums that they would be Mary Magdalene reborn. Even if Mary Magdalene is reincarnated today, which may well be possible, she could not at the same time be incarnated in different women who channel Sananda, but at most in one of them (and that would already be rather difficult to believe).

One of the allegedly “reincarnated Mary Magdalenes” is a German woman, who years ago several times channelled Ashtar Sheran as well as Sananda and the latter let her believe being Jesus’ partner. It was in these Channelings said that Ashtar Sheran would be the commander of – unbelievably – no less than 10 million spaceships ... In a book, she prophesied extensive natural catastrophes for 2008, in which only a third of the humanity would survive. Big catastrophes did happen, mainly in Myanmar and China but (in comparison) almost none in the Americas, in Africa or in Europe. Worldwide some 226 million people died or were missing of a total world population of 6.7 billions. Hence 6.5 billions survived and not 2.2 billions and almost three times more than predicted. The catastrophes were quite local and no worldwide events. After this, she rewrote her website extensively and today it is no more there.

A “Mary Magdalene” herself comes through in certain channelings and calls herself “Lady Nada.” Convincing?

There is also a healer who calls himself Sananda, allegedly an incarnation of a Santinian (see below). As concerns him, I found a warning in the Internet (in German). (In the very moment when I in the original text of this text in German wanted to enter the weblink here, our village suddenly had a power-cut! Maybe a coincidence, yet remarkable. But a safety copy had automatically been stored...)

There will be quite a few souls who, after leaving the body, have to realize with deep disappointment that they were hoodwinked by “spiritual” impostors – be they physically incarnated beings, three- or multidimensional entities, terrestrial humans, extraterrestrials, gurus, preachers, sect leaders or fundamentalists. Why do these impostors do that? One reason will be that they can absorb life energy from adherents (and money!) and feed on it. Another that they consciously or unconsciously serve deceivers. Another is – when done by humans – that they unknowingly are manipulated by negative entities.

⁶ Cf. <https://extraterrestrial-wiki.com/index.php/Tuella>.

As said above, I do not generally condemn channelings. But it is rather obvious that there will be quite a lot more chaff than wheat here. Since I only marginally have to do with this subject, I have so far found rather few that give me a relatively good impression and feeling. But there are such also.

Maitreya

Another entity we heard much more about in earlier times than we do today is Maitreya, the one who was represented by Benjamin Creme (1922-2016). He a long time ago allegedly said that he would “soon” appear in public and speak to the world in such a way that everyone would understand him in his or her own language (i.e., telepathically). We have now been waiting for this so long that today hardly anyone will believe it and there is now little told about him. Maitreya is the Western version of his name that – again – is Sanskrit and means “benevolent”, “friendly.” The correct spelling in Sanskrit is the nominative form maitreyaḥ – मैत्रेयः. If this is written in Hebrew letters, one may mark the length of the e with the letter aleph (in a way doubling the vowel, even though there are in Hebrew also other ways to mark the prolongation of a vowel) because in Sanskrit e is always long. Thus we arrive at “mem-iod-tau-reshe-aleph-iod-he” (מיתרעיה). Evaluating these letters according to the biblical numerology (gematria), they add up to 666. There are pictures of this Maitreya that make quite a negative impression.

It should, however, be added that Maitreya is in Buddhism since age-old times the awaited world teacher, who makes a positive impression in the old texts. Thus he will not be the one mentioned above. But as we in Christianity warn about false Christs and prophets (Matt 7:15; 24:11; 24:24, Mark 13:23, Luk 6:26), one may also need to warn about false Maitreyas ...

Why so many names in Sanskrit?

Why do so many names appear to be in Sanskrit? Here we can only speculate. One reason could be that many of the entities that we encounter here may have been playing certain roles in the earliest periods of Indian culture. Another may be that it makes more impression this way. A third reason could be that Sanskrit concepts are more or less known from Blavatsky's Theosophy that were given to her from an entity called Djwal Khul, who is (or was) a Tibetan in Northern India and whose “teachings” are close to Hinduism. Thus Blavatsky's texts contain many Sanskrit concepts. A further reason could be that the Indian tradition and its concepts are popular and spread in today's esotericism and New Age, mixed with both positive and darker ideas. Therefore the use of Sanskrit may be motivated by the attraction that such words and names have in certain circles.

I also do not to generally devalue New Age this way. Here there is in my view both what is good and what is less good and it is – again – a matter of separating the chaff from the wheat.

I personally see nothing basically negative in Hinduism and Indian Culture, but see it as a tradition with many positive aspects. I see no reason for a real conflict between it and the original Christianity of the Gnostic Christians that arose out of the teachings of Jesus (the later “Churchianity” is a deviating construction).

Yet it is quite obvious that many an Indian guru – of these, who acquire international fame – make (or made) use of negative energies and life energies absorbed from devotees, and cooperate with asuras (demons) and other negative entities (some even use black magic). They use such life energies for manipulative power and for exhibiting “miracles” and materializations. That does not mean that they are all negative, but the good ones are not interested in fame and worldwide popularity. They may be found with luck and spiritual guidance.

And what about higher entities?

To me it seems out of question that Christ himself and the true Jesus would let themselves down to this channelling circus. And even if it would be the archangel Michael, for example, it would probably rather be that a not so high entity pretends to be him. That could be a part of a game to catch souls for a not very bright region.

Considering all these things, I come to the opinion that Ashtar & Co are agents, who with sweet words – sometimes also with threats – and misguidance want to prepare the Earth population as far as they can with a “honeypot” for a future event, so that one will receive the enslavers with open arms when they come. When then the humans understand that they were caught in a trap, it will be too late.

To terminate this paragraph a bit more positively I want to make clear that I focussed on examples that to me appear negative or at least doubtful in the sense of “not all that glitters is gold.” It is about admonition against gullibility and to first have a basically sceptical view until we know more. Who too naively devotes himself to channelings could be drawn into something that only much later leads to disappointment and regret. It is not a pleasant discovery to have to admit that one has been hoodwinked. There are, however, also good examples among all the channelings that are spread. I regard as such the books by Barbara Marciniak, Pavlina Klemm, Sture Johansson (who channels an entity called Ambres) and others. If one, so to speak, scratches a little on the surface to look deeper, one may recognize if underneath is real gold, or not. The inner feeling one has when dealing with the subject is also a compass.

Hatonn

Another member of the Ashtar Command is Hatonn: “The god Aton created a fragment of himself called ‘Hatonn’, a 9-foot tall humanoid who oversees intergalactic affairs throughout this universe.” Well – he also speaks about evacuation of the Earth population because “We are at the end of this civilization.” He spoke (when this was still actual) in a remarkably positive sense about Obama, like Ashtar Sheran and Sananda also did. This may be so in their view ... since Obama obviously did much to bring America and the rest of the world on a slippery slope. That fits to depopulation plans and intentions to eradicate Christianity. This does not put these space figures in a better light and does not better hide their reptilian tails ...

Kryon

I came across still another figure that makes something revolt in me. He calls himself Kryon and actively channels through various mediums and also together with Ashtar Sheran and Sananda. One thing strikes me: here, too, one is playing around with Sanskrit, but in a really dilettantish and wrong way. For example with the greeting “Omar ta satt.” Omar is not a Sanskrit word but an Arabic name and the proper Sanskrit formula is “Oṃ (or aum) tat sat” = “Oṃ, that is truth.” So who, then, is this “true Omar” supposed to be ...? Oṃ (ॐ) is the first sound and the unmanifested God (Brahman), often also seen as the Hindu trinity (trimūrti) of Brahmā (the manifested Brahman), Viṣṇu und Śiva. We may compare this with “In the beginning was the word” (John 1:1), since that “word” was Oṃ in the Hindu view.

I have here intentionally (and for information) given links to some typical webpages that are doubtful to me. As mentioned above being examples of channelling sites I would like to warn about. It is unbelievable what stuff is told in this way, with which one wants to (as I see it) deceive and mislead people. Those who do the latter will probably believe it, feeling that they would be “chosen” for it – an especially effective trick for deception (and it could also be good business). Here much karma is created!

Implants and manipulation

Here is a rather discomforting report over how Kryon may possibly insert energetic implants in people so that their behavior notably changes! This may also be the case with others who appear in channelings! Here is a similar report about Ashtar & Co.

Competition struggles?

Now I came across something again: A channeled entity criticizes ‘colleague’ Kryon! (However in German ...). Well, where are we going now? This entity is called Metatron. He says „Kryon is no angel“ and alleges that the name would have to do with “cry on” ... It also warns about another one who would be falsely calling himself Melek Metatron, and about Sananda and Ashtar Sheran as well. I may so far agree with the latter ... Here a “lion tamer” may be needed in the circus ring and we hope that he will come soon (after waiting 2000 years ...).

But things become wilder! On one channelling site they all appear together: Melek Metatron: Drops of Blessing; Energy Transmissions from Angel Chamuel, Lady Nada, Seraphis Bey, Jesus, Ashtar Sheran. Here no one is warned about. But “Melek Metatron” is according to the above supposed to be the one who fakes the “real Metatron.” Whoever that is ... Do we now have competition struggles on that website level?

So how did I come to see a bit of that Kryon circus? A person wrote to me with very confused things I could not take seriously. He referred to the Kryon School and also a similar page (which is linked to above). So now I have to be careful so that I will not be drawn into something here myself ... and better finish stirring this soup before it poisons me. The considerations above will have to be enough. Chapter closed, except for some general comments below.

What are we then to think about channelings?

I do not generally condemn channelings. But it is obvious that there will be a lot more chaff than wheat here ... Since I merely touch the subject, I have so far only found two with which I have rather good feelings. One is the book Bringers of the Dawn by Barbara Marciniak (the text can be had here) and then lectures and books by Sture Johansson, a Swede, who channels “Ambres.”

Concerning Ambres I know these channelings only from a video in which, however, very meaningful things were said. That is a critical point! It must make sense! Who would otherwise listen? What Ambres said made much sense for me in my spiritual world view (and who has a purely material world view is anyway “outside”). In the case of Marciniak it is that the book fits well to information that I have gathered in latter decades about the origin of mankind, especially from Mesopotamian cuneiform texts ^{7,8,9,10}. As concerns Sture Johansson one has criticized that Ambres would speak the Stockholm dialect ... and that is nonsense, because what else? If he would not speak in the language of the channeler but in some own, no one would understand him! In the case of channelings – even such that are faked or deceiving as well as in more or less good ones – the information somehow comes telepathically to the medium and is translated in his or her brain.

So what do you want, then? The deceiving ones? Here is one report and here is another. It is a matter of brainwashing and consciousness control. What for? As is explained above concerning Hatonn (at the end of the text) it is about deception and about sucking life energy from devotees.

How can we reveal false entities in Channelings?

The best method should be the following. One asks the question (as I would formulate it): “Are you coming in the name of Christ? The true Christ and not the fake one of the Church?” If the answer is a clear “Yes”, I would accept the contact. Otherwise it would rarely be “No” but the entity then avoids by saying, for example: “Why do you ask that?” That would for me be an evasive “No!”

Who is not a Christian may instead ask, for example: “... in the name of the love (or the light) of the highest God?”

Very suspicious

Why did they all support Obama, who obviously did all he could to wreck America and the whole Earth? Who apparently may have liked to have a 3rd world war? Who strove for a depopulation of our planet? Who made the impression to work for these reptilians – or was manipulated by them – that want to take over the power on our planet? Who appeared to be supported by Satanists? If these entities supported Obama, it looks like they served the interest of these reptilians – or are reptilians themselves ...

Cf. (only a few examples):

Ashtar on President Obama's State of the Union Speech, 2-12-13
Does President Obama Lie?

⁷ The books by Sitchin, even though I do not agree to all unreservedly.

⁸ Michael Tellinger: Slave Species of the Gods, Bear & Co, Rochester, 2012.

⁹ Anton Parks: Eden, la vérité sur ses origines, Éditions Nouvelle Terre, Lopérec, 2011.

¹⁰ Jan Erik Sigdell: Reign of the Anunnaki, Bear & Co, Rochester (Vermont), 2018.

Sananda – The Fake Jesus

Message from Sananda through Elizabeth Trutwin, May 29, 2013

(Quote: “The Sirian Commander, Barack Obama, a fully adept Galactic from Andromeda Galaxy is the Commander in Chief of the military working closely with the Provost Marshall”!!!! Who in all the world can believe such nonsense???)

A New Earth

What will happen to our humanity? The world is going down the slippery slope and becomes a hell with increasing dictatorial and totalitarian control of the individuals, who become stupefied and slowly zombified through manipulation, chemistry, genetically manipulated food, artificial viruses and medical tricks with “adjuvants” in vaccines. We participate in the destruction of nature and mass torture of animals for our greed for meat. Space for living is being reduced as prescribed by Agenda 21 and from radioactive pollution, the whole Pacific with islands and coastal regions is deteriorating and the life in the ocean is dying (Fukushima).

The separation has begun! A new Earth probably is forming in another dimension and many of us will then go there, but rather as souls after leaving our present 3-dimensional body – if we are sufficiently developed spiritually and manage to live in love and without cooperation with negative energies. That Earth is one with all the beautiful that is being lost on this Earth, a planet where people live in peace, freedom and love as the true Christ (the one of the Church is falsified) taught us through his messenger Jesus (the real one, also here the one of the Church is falsified). The Earth on which we live now is slowly approaching a state of a hell and a swamp with ruins and vast areas that are polluted through radioactivity, radiations like 5G, trash and chemistry. This is suitable for the karma of all those, who today (directly or by omission) participate in all material and spiritual destructive activities through politics, business activities, globalization and the New World Order. If there was no real hell before, there will rather soon be one here now – tailored for them. The negative entities and the reptilians want that we incarnate here again, in this swamp, because they want us as slaves, but in more easily controlled numbers. It appears that they are immune against radioactivity and all the garbage that since long times are accumulated here. This raises the question if such deceivers as Ashtar & Co may have a plan to hold us back from going to the new Earth by means of abducting us to somewhere, from where they could take us back to reincarnate here again, in limited numbers and forcefully. This Earth is already under satanic control (cf. Satanic ‘black mass’ gets green light from U.S. city), but the new Earth is in Christ energy. Christians are waiting for the return of Christ and a new messenger from him, but they are misled by the Church. Those who find the way to a true Christianity will probably not experience this return here, but enter the region of the new Earth. There he is waiting for them, even though some who consider themselves to be Christians believe to be awaiting him here.

Preparation for invasion?

The deception of Ashtar & Co reminds in kind and feeling of a science-fiction series “V”, shown in German TV in a remake from 2009. In the story, extraterrestrials come to the Earth to prepare for taking possession of our planet with sweet talking and offering aid and support and a peaceful coexistence. They seek to infiltrate our humanity and offer to vaccinate (!) us to reinforce our health and immunize us against diseases. But their plan is to enslave us and feed on our flesh and life energies. Of course, this differs in details from the sweet talking of Ashtar & Co, but has a striking analogy to the apparently positive approach towards us, hiding an evil plan.

The Santinians

Hermann Ilg¹¹ (translated quote): “The name Santinians is given to them by ASHTAR SHERAN from the plural of the Italian santino = ‘image of a saint’.” (Diminutive of santo = saint.) Hence they are the “little saints”, or in a way “little angels.” The Santinians (see also here) allegedly belong to a civilization in the constellation Alpha Centauri, where they live on a few planets, mainly the planet Metharia. They are said to be spiritually and technologically developed far beyond us.

¹¹ A German author and UFO researcher (1919-1999).

There is, however, also a rather different conception that has to do with terrestrial Santinians. They allegedly settled on our planet in age-old times and today live in a subterranean world and are regarded as “masters of lies, deception and manipulation” (link in German). Their nature is deceitful, and sneaky (link in German) and yet rather inconspicuous. Are then the “real” Santinians in Alpha Centauri the benevolent ones? Are we here dealing with two very different kinds of “Santinians”?

In a Forum (again a link in German) for adherents to Billy Meier (cf. my comment about him above), one finds remarks like “The Santinians certainly belong to the most consciousness enslaving sects.”

Ashtar Sheran appears to be a kind of representative of the Santinians and also Sananda is supposed to be one of them. What is written above about these two may arouse quite some doubt as concerns judgement of the Santinians ... The reader will have to make up his own mind on this and where possible separate the chaff from the wheat (again I regrettably have only links in German here since, so far, I did not find such information in English...): <https://bewusstseinsreise.net/santiner/>, <https://www.in-lak-ech.de/Au.ss.erirdische-Arten.htm> and <https://spirituelle-revolution.net/Thread-Die-Satanier>.

Semjasa, Semjaza and Samjase

These three names seem to be easily mixed up. Semjase is allegedly a female Pleiadian contact of Billy Meier, Semjasa is said to be a prehistoric Pleiadian ruler (hence male) and Semjaza is the leader of the 200 Grigori, who, as “sons of God”, got sexually involved with the beautiful women of our humanity so that they gave birth to “great men (humans)” (Gen 6:1-4), also mentioned in the Book of Enoch and The Book of Giants. There seems to also be Channelings from Semjase about which one may make up one’s own mind in the light of discussions above.

ADDENDUM

A recommendable and extensive text:

HIDDEN MASTERS OF THE UNIVERSE by Virginia Patrick

<http://jimmyprophet.wordpress.com/2012/10/24/hidden-masters-of-the-universe-by-virginia-patrick/>

Suggested reading

A book by the late Swedish painter Monika Sjöö:

New Age Channelings - Who Or What Is Being Channeled? Bristol (England), 2020

<https://web.archive.org/web/20110808131005/http://monicasjoo.org/books/naessay/newageessay1.htm>,

See also: http://www.dreamshore.net/bluejay/monicasjoo_channeling.html

REMARK

I recently discovered this video in the Internet: “Magicians” Prove A Spiritual World Exists - Demonic Activity Caught On Video. It shows how many a real stage magician can perform unbelievable magic tricks with the aid of invisible entities. Certainly most stage magicians are very talented in dexterity and their tricks can be explained naturally. But there are some – and the greatest – who perform tricks that can only have a parapsychological explanation – in this case quite obviously being aided by entities. On advertisement posters for their shows there are very often little “devils” shown. That made me think if they are, possibly, subterranean Santinians? Only a speculation ... but they do look much like descriptions of subterranean Santinians in links above.

One may then ask: For what? What could such entities have from it? It must not be in bad intention if they aid the stage magician. They probably have fun doing it. But it could also be that darker powers strive for soul catching that way – at least for the souls of the magicians ...