

SOUL AMPUTATION THROUGH VACCINATION AND A THIRD GENDER

It is repeatedly reported that with the new vaccines vaccinated people lose their spirituality (at least partially and if they were spiritual before). They become more materialistic and some say that they no longer feel God. Rudolf Steiner already foresaw this a hundred years ago. He wrote (a somewhat shortened quote with emphasis by me):

"One will abolish the soul by a medicament. One will ... find a vaccine, by which in the earliest possible youth, if possible immediately at birth, the organism will be worked on in such a way that man will not come to the thought: There is a soul and a spirit.

This is how sharply the two world-view currents will confront each other: The one will have to think how concepts and ideas ...in reality have grown out of spirit and soul. The others, the successors of today's materialists, will look for the vaccine which will be inoculated into the body and will make it such that it by its constitution no longer talks about such nonsense as soul and spirit, but only talks about the forces which act in the mechanical and in the chemical, which constitute planets and suns out of the world mist. This will be brought about by physical procedures. The materialistic physicians will be entrusted with the task of expelling the souls from mankind. ...

The most dangerous thing in the near future will be to surrender unconsciously to the influences that are there. For whether man knows them or not, that makes no difference to their reality. ... The spirits of darkness will inspire the people in whom they dwell to find even an inoculant to drive out the inclination to spirituality from the earliest youth from the souls by focusing on the corporeality. As today bodies are inoculated against this and that, so in the future the children will be inoculated with a substance, so that by this inoculation the people will be immune to develop the 'foolishness, of the spiritual life out of themselves'. ...

All this tends to find the means by which the bodies can be inoculated so that they will not give rise to an inclination to spiritual ideas, but all their lives people will believe only in sensuous matter. Just as today ... one inoculates against consumption, so one will inoculate against the disposition to spirituality."

(Rudolf Steiner in the lectures of October 7 and 27, 1917).

This fits exactly to the current efforts in the world, where one strives with the "Great Reset" as well as with the "New World Order" for a state of humanity that is free from all "nonsensical" ideas about "God and Gods" and about beings and worlds invisible to us. We are to be robotized, namely by genetic reprogramming, for which new gene sequences in the vaccine replace the ones in the body of the inoculated person. Also feelings of love, compassion, sympathy but also grief for lost relationships with fellow human beings. We are to be spiritually blinded and the soul of the person is to be taken from us. What for?

Who has no soul, has no eternal life, but only the elite shall be allowed to be very long-lived, if possible forever. Then the human being cannot incarnate again and a woman does not become pregnant if no new soul comes to her to incarnate. Therefore, new humans, if needed, are to be "manufactured" by cloning. Such is the idea with the "Great Reset" and the new world order.

Or has one miscalculated things in the "elite"? Only if the removed soul would be destroyed, this calculation would add up. Then the now soulless body would really become a robot, which one can throw away "after use". He would anyway not be human anymore, because the human is the soul and not the body! But can one destroy the soul, the divine core of the human being? That core is the individual human but the body is merely its "dress", sometime in the prehistoric times by creation brought into existence, in order to collect experiences in different successive lifetimes. If one could destroy the soul, all its experiences would be in vain...

Under circumstances, the soul can be exchanged for another, either intentionally, because the new "soul" makes the person more "useful". This "soul" is then rather a being (possibly an extraterrestri-al), which is to use the body as a new cover. It is assumed that with some high politicians such an exchange was made to influence them in the interest of certain entities (possibly extraterrestrials). In this case, they are no longer the person they were, but only look like that. This is also called "soul scalping".

The implied longevity among the "elites" is a phenomenon that is also mentioned in the Bible: Methuselah supposedly lived to become 969 years old, Jared 962, Noah 950 and Adam 930 years. The old Sumerian king list is a riddle. According to it, King Enmenluana is said to have reigned 12 sars or 43200 years, and Alulim 8 sars or 28800 years. The list has more such extremely long-lived ones. This seems implausible and one explanation could be that the Sumerian time unit sar is misinterpreted today. Another one is that there really was a time when people could become so old in special cases. The latter will probably irritate the ego of some top politicians very much and they would like to have this again. In that case, however, we others must never be able to become so old, not even as a soul through many incarnations.

But it would be terribly boring to for millennia always do only the pretty much same sh...! Better variety in different countries and cultures and on other planets and sometimes also in the other sex.

On the subject of gender, it is more undeniable than some would want to have it, that our biology actually allows only two genders. The new but artificial gender today is the transsexuals, who are not simply transvestites, but by all means want to force the other gender for themselves. One feels in such a way, but however one turns it, our chromosomes remain unchanged! This leads today even to the fact that one in certain contexts officially distinguishes between "menstruating" and "non-menstruating women"! New laws shall make this – after all artificial – choice of sex possible even for children without the consent of the parents. What does this lead to? To a new sexuality! If my wife had a penis, how would we do it? Yes, how do you think?... Sometimes we come across certain Internet sites (and that even unintentionally), which mediate correspondingly appropriate partnerships and which advertise transprostitution. Is it not extremely tragic when for some (for a minority and fortunately not at all for all) people there is hardly any other way of life than in the sex industry? It is also tragic when a corresponding kind of drug addiction develops, namely the regular use of hormones. What then if in times of crisis these are no longer available?

With this, I have briefly touched on real problems that many readers have probably hardly thought of. How can they be solved? Of course, only by recognizing transsexuals as equal human beings in society, and we are probably already on the way to that. But it is obviously wrong to allow minors by law to make a choice that they cannot make without maturity and a certain amount of life experience. The statistics show that quite a few regret the choice later and even kill themselves. Who is not of age, can benevolently and neutrally be psychologically prepared for a later choice, without immediately intervening medically.

It seems to me that there is a political intention behind this. This development serves further interests of the "elite": Childless partnerships limit population growth. Therefore, one will want to promote such connections.

Another aspect: many Satanists worship a "deity" called Baphomet. This has an androgynous body (i.e. with breasts and penis) and in addition a goat's head. Is this "third gender" supposed to have something to do with him/her? Everything unites: human and animal, man and woman, but there is still something missing womb and vagina. Will that also be added one day?

I remember reading somewhere on the Internet about a very "crazy" idea, apparently by a so-called "scientist", to transplant a woman's uterus to a man in order to then be able to carry a child. Could there really be a connection with transhumanism in future plans of the satanic madhouse, the idea to make humankind androgynous by genetic manipulation? Then there would be neither men nor women but only hermaphrodites and the concept of marriage and family, which is annoying for the New World Order, would be finally eliminated. Cf. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xi\_xTF1AtPs! Such a human-like entity could probably even impregnate itself ...
